

COURT WILL VISIT SITE OF ROAD DISPUTE

The Adams County court Thursday afternoon completed the hearing of testimony in the equity action brought by Donald R. and Faye E. Black, Aspers R. D., against Robert C. and Mary P. Lott, also of Aspers R. D., over the closing of a road across property owned by the Lotts to a woodlot owned by the Blacks.

At the conclusion of testimony, the court announced that, accompanied by the attorneys and principals, it will visit the site next Thursday. Then will follow the filing of briefs and arguments of the attorneys at a later date. The court may hand down its decision in September, attorneys estimated.

The matter pertains to a road which, according to witnesses once passed the front porch of a house now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lott at their Piney Mountain Orchard in Menallen Twp.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES
Witnesses during the morning recalled that back in "Teddy Roosevelt's time" a road led up to the wood lot. Other witnesses during the afternoon testified that the road was not present as far as they could determine during the periods from about 1930 to the 1950s.

Lott, after purchasing the place about 1954, built his own road up into the orchard. For various reasons the road has been closed from time to time.

Dr. Raymond Hale Jr., of Arendtsville, was one of the principal witnesses during the afternoon. He said he recalled the farm house and the road situation vividly, having become mired there when he sought to turn around on one occasion, and having eventually refused to make any calls back to the house until the road was repaired. This was in a period before the house, now used for a labor camp, was owned by the Lotts.

ON MATERNITY CALL

Dr. Hale described the scene in front of the porch of the house, where the "old road" once passed, by saying that a large apple tree blocked any road there.

Recalling a visit to deliver a child at the home in 1941 when a Wagaman family resided there, and various calls to the Wagamans and other tenants over a 10-year period afterward, Dr. Hale described the road to the house and his observation that there was no road past the house.

Asked when he had last visited the premises, he said about two weeks ago to refresh his memory.

ELECTION BD. IS QUIZZED ON GOP BYLAWS

Mrs. Elna R. Group, Adams County Republican vice chairman, has asked the county elections board whether the bylaws of the county Republican party have been changed since 1960.

In a letter received by the county commissioners, who sit at the elections board, at their meeting in the courthouse Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Group said:

"In June of 1960 four members of the Adams County Republican Committee petitioned the Adams County board of elections to review the filing of two amendments to the bylaws of the Adams County Republican Committee because the purported adoption of the amendment was not legal. I was one of the four signers of the petition. During the summer of 1960 I was informed orally that up to that time the amendments had not been filed. No further information has been received by any signer of the petition concerning its status."

IS VICE CHAIRMAN

"Will you kindly inform me at once whether the request to refuse filing of the amendment was granted and whether the bylaws of the Adams County Republican Committee remain as they were originally adopted in 1959 and filed with the county board of elections. As vice chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee I have been asked by several interested committee members to obtain authoritative answers to these questions."

Terrorism In Algiers Is Mysteriously Halted But Flames Spread Elsewhere

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
ALGIERS (AP)—The European Secret Army Organization today mysteriously halted its terrorism in Algiers at least temporarily after a day of arson and indiscriminate shooting.

Hopeful French officials believed the appeal for peace by Jean Georges Sarraadet, head of some 2,000 secret army commandos, was beginning to work.

Most Europeans, however, said skeptically it was the driving rain over the city that stopped the destructive action.

Sarraadet called Thursday on his fellow terrorists to abandon their struggle and seek peace with the top leaders of Moslem nationalism.

But at this stage the leaders of the Algerian nationalists apparently had no desire to deal with the European terrorists.

THREATEN BANKS

Throughout the morning, thousands of rain-soaked Europeans besieged banks and the remaining

He added that he hoped Monday's meeting will be the last one before he announces a formation of a coalition cabinet.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of schiffli embroidered nylon organza with a basque bodice, bateau neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The controlled front skirt had a pleated hipline and the back was accented by a series of flat bows and ended in a chapel train. A tiara of frosted petals and leaves held her veil of illusion. ## Hospital Seeks Way To Bolster Bill Payments

Decline in hospital census, higher costs required to operate the enlarged hospital and delayed payments, largely insurance claims, have combined to confront the Warner Hospital with money troubles.

Following the lead of President Franklin R. Biglum, who insisted that the credit of the hospital must be maintained, the hospital directors at their meeting Thursday evening authorized the finance committee to negotiate up to $25,000 in bank loans to meet overdue trade accounts.

The board ordered a close examination of all accounts receivable and stressed the necessity that collections be effected to restore the depleted cash resources of the institution.

The decline in occupancy, which is prevalent in most areas, is unexplainable and during the course of the year so far has been interspersed with brief periods of high occupancy which necessitated deferring admissions

OLD ROUND HILL CEMETERY IS REDEDICATED

More than 200 persons gathered Thursday evening at Round Hill Cemetery in Reading Twp., north of Hampton, for rededication and flag raising services at which District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter was the principal speaker.

The crowd, probably the largest ever to assemble in the lonely spot where no burials have been made in nearly half a century but which dates back nearly two and a half centuries, inspected the stone-fenced cemetery recently cleaned and put in repair by Reading Twp. supervisors under authority given by the county court.

The Bermudian Springs High School Band paraded, there was a vocal solo, firing squads of the East Berlin VFW and the New Oxford Sons of Veterans fired volleys and the program closed with taps. Small American flags flutter over the known graves of seven Revolutionary war graves in the burial plot.

CHILDREN RAISE FLAG

Gathered about the new 30-foot flag pole near the center of the cemetery with the help of an amplifying system and an electric organ, a new American flag provided by the New Oxford Sons of Veterans was raised to the top of the new pole by Phyllis and John Schue, assisted by Lt. Arthur Weaver of the Sons of Veterans Reserves. The Schue children are grandchildren of Glenn Jacobs, former Reading Twp. supervisor who was reared on the farm which surrounds the cemetery. It was Mr. Jacobs who arranged Thursday's ceremonies and he assured the crowd in brief closing remarks that the program "cost the taxpayers nothing."

After the band and the SUV and VFW groups entered the cemetery, there was a formal welcome by Mrs. Clyde Sowards, East Berlin, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Robert A. Macaskill, Gettysburg Presbyterian pastor.

The ceremony of the flag raising followed as the band played the national anthem under the direction of Gary Crum. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was recited by Mrs. George Leas, East Berlin. Mrs. John Rebert, East Berlin, sang "The Heart of My Country" accompanied by Gerald Mummert at the organ.

"BEAUTIFUL, STURDY PLACE"

In his address rededicating "this beautiful and sturdy place our ancestors chose," Mr. Teeter expressed appreciation to the township supervisors and to "those in the past" who helped preserve the old cemetery. Noting that little information is available about the beginnings of the

13 Young Germans Elude Red Bullets On Hijacked Excursion Boat; Have Baby

BERLIN (AP) — Bringing a baby with them, 13 young East Germans hijacked a 500-ton river excursion boat early today and escaped to freedom under a hail of machine-gun bullets.

East German police, firing from a watch tower, a pier, a bridge and a patrol boat, pumped over 200 bullets into the fleeing vessel. Nobody was hurt.

West Berlin police fired 10 shots back at the East Germans to check their fire. The boat, the Friedrich Wolf, was riddled and there were bullet marks on buildings on the West Berlin shore.

The escapees included eight men, all employees of East Berlin's "white fleet" of excursion boats, five women, and one couple, the 5-month-old boy. The adults, all about 30 or under, told police they had been planning the escape for a week.

"IE CAPTAIN, ENGINEER"

Thursday night the men in the group went aboard the Friedrich Wolf at her mooring beside the River Spree and began drinking with her captain and engineer. When the two were off guard, they jumped them and tied them up.

Appointments To County Home Bd.

Rev. Francis Reinberger, professor of practical theology at the local seminary, was named chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Board of the Adams County Home by the county commissioners Thursday afternoon. He has been serving as a board member for some time.

He was named to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. Nevin E. Frantz, Arendtsville, who asked to be relieved of board duties because of his contemplated move to a church in North Carolina.

Three persons were named Thursday to fill three vacancies caused by resignations. They were Rev. W. W. Sammel, County Treasurer Daniel J. Wolff and Calvin A. Cluck. They replace A. W. Butterfield, Mrs. Betty Kenworthy and Rev. Frantz.

The commissioners voted an expression of appreciation to the three who had resigned for their "outstanding service" to the county and county home.

HOLD AWARDS DINNER HERE FOR DEMOLAY

Postmaster Wilmer King, Harrisburg, was the speaker at the annual awards dinner of the Gettysburg Order of DeMolay held at the Cashtown fire hall Thursday evening with approximately 150 members and guests present. S. Blaine Miller presided as toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble.

Vincent Hawbaker, first adviser to the young men's group, gave a brief history of the organization. He said that Jacques DeMolay was born in France in 1244 and joined the Knights Templar at the age of 21. He said this organization was sanctioned by an early Pope and was involved in the Crusades, a primary duty being to guard the passageway between Jerusalem and the Mediterranean seaport of Acre. In the reign of Philip IV the Pope was excommunicated and the wealth of the knights was confiscated, he added. DeMolay was their head at this time and he was burned at the stake for refusing to divulge their secrets.

PRESENT BANNER

A large banner was presented to the DeMolays on behalf of the Good Samaritan Lodge No. 236, the Royal Arch Chapter, and Commandery No. 79 by Past Commander William Fisel and was accepted by Master Counselor Kenneth Kime.

King, who was born in Biglerville, and whose grandfather was one of the partners in the store of Keady and King at Orttanna, spoke on "The Eternal Hills." He discussed the mountains of Holiness, Beauty, Love and Faith.

Lloyd Hartman, chairman of the merit committee, presented the following awards: Senior majority certificates to those who have attained the age of 21, to Joel Reaser, Edward Ray Deardorff, Richard Eugene Bender, Frederic Charles Smith, James

13 Young Germans Elude Red Bullets On Hijacked Excursion Boat; Have Baby

Under cover of darkness they spirited their women and the baby aboard. Then at dawn the men got the two-deck boat moving.

They swung into the Spree and headed toward the center of Berlin, making for the point where the left bank of the river becomes the border between East and West Berlin.

Posts of Vopos — as the East German police are called — opened fire.

RAM BOAT

Racing the engines at their top speed of 10 knots, the men aboard the Friedrich Wolf suddenly swung left and rammed the boat into the entrance of the Landwehr Canal — Western territory.

The escapees, moving quickly in twos and threes, sprang ashore. They flung themselves to the ground to escape the whipping bullets. When the West Berlin police fired, the Vopos checked their fire.

The whole thing was over in 20 minutes.

The boat's captain and engineer were allowed to get the boat under way and return to East Berlin.

Trostel, 1967, by his wife; Ronald F. Hess, 1968, and Richard C. Hess, 1969, by their mother; James P. Bricker, 1959, by his mother; Samuel L. Kessel, 1961, by his mother; Allan S. Hoke, 1960, by Atty Eugene Hartman, and Wayne B. Conover, 1961, by his wife. Pins for William R. Swisher Jr., 1957, Don W. Coble, 1958, and Fred V. Hawbecker, 1959, were accepted by their fathers since they were prevented by school duties from being present.

HARTMAN TALKS Hartman in presenting the awards said, "These awards form a mark of distinction, a stamp of achievement. In a youth movement where adults especially contribute their time and efforts the awards to which they are entitled are very important." Other members of the merit committee are J. P. Hollabaugh and George Coshunn.

Sgt. Waite of the ROTC of Gettysburg College was presented with an award for his sponsorship of the DeMolay rifle team and the work and materials he contributed to this project during the year.

ELECTION BD.

that any committee member who cannot be present may authorize any other committee member in writing to act for him at any meeting of the county committee. The amendment changed the proxy regulation to read that only a member of the same voting district may carry another committee member's proxy. Another amendment passed at the same time provided a secret ballot at any meeting where required.

CITES STATE LAW

Mrs. Group said that Section 807 of the Pennsylvania Election Code as amended requires that certified copies of bylaws and all later alterations and amendments must be filed with the county board of elections before they become effective. She said the reason for her letter is to determine whether the changes have yet been filed with the election board.

She claims that the 1960 amendments are illegal since they were taken by a voice vote of the entire group instead of by divisions and by standing, and noted that the bylaws of the party require that any amendment must be passed by two-thirds of the entire county committee, and cannot be passed by two-thirds of those present at any meeting unless that number represents two-thirds of the entire committee.

of the scene. When it was indicated that he might have confused his recollection of 20 years ago with the scene today, Dr. Hale held that "there is no comparison between the scene today and the scene then. You can drive on the road now."

Location of the large apple tree in the yard where the road was supposed to pass was fixed by Dr. Hale, as "I tried to turn between the tree and a fence row, but that space was too narrow. Then I tried to turn between the tree and the house and that's when I bogged down in the mud."

Emory Tuckey, 71, said there were traces of a log road there at times he visited over the years. His son, Wilmer Tuckey, said there had been traces of a wagon track past the house but that trees have fallen and grown up on the site and the road would have been impassable. He said he played at the home as a youth and that "in 1938 the apple trees in front of the house were at least 20 years old."

Grover Irvin, 84, who now resides at Poney Mountain Home, said "no one drove by the front of the house" during the six years he resided there starting in 1946. Asked whether hunters went past the place to go to the woodlot he observed, "They did—and they walked."

cemetery and the Presbyterian congregation established there about 1748, Mr. Teeter said land for the cemetery was given by William Weakley, some of whose family is buried there and some of whose descendants were attending the ceremonies.

Mr. Teeter noted that ancestors of his wife, the former Hannah Neely, also been buried at Round Hill. He said the first person known to have been buried there was born in 1704. He pointed to the grave of Dr. John Arnold, who laid out nearby Hampton, and to the grave of Samuel Hodge, "the strongest man that ever lived," and related the legend connected with his name.

INDIAN HISTORY

He made reference to bits of history about an Indian massacre "back of Round Hill" in which only a mother and child survived from the whites attacked. He urged "greater family pride and pride in the institutions from which we have come and greater interest and appreciation in the preservation of these links with the past."

There was an offering for the " upkeep of the grounds" and after singing of "America," the benediction was given by the Rev. Amos D. Meyers, York Springs. Salutes were fired by the VFW and SVR and taps sounded to end the ceremony.

From the Files of the

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Counties Tell of UNRRA

Work: An Adams County native who is chief of the management branch of the London office of UNRRA made a flying trip here, arriving Monday evening and leaving Tuesday noon. The local woman, Ethel C. Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clapsaddle,

R. 1, has been with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation

Association since 1945 and is returning to London by June 16 in order to complete the work of closing its London office before being transferred to another international organization. Describing the difficulties of handling the UNRRA work she added that possibly the most interesting work has been the handling of the children stolen by Germany from other nations in Europe. "Most of the youngsters have been integrated into the German way of life," she told a Times reporter,

"and it is extremely difficult not only to find the children but to return them. The tragic thing is the fact that many of these children have no place to go when they are returned to their native lands. But the governments natually seek the return of their people."

She praised the British for their ability to "take it" and their pride in being able to undergo any privation.

Impressions Of Gettysburg: The

Gettysburg of 1882 and its personalities were described to members of the Adams County Historical Society at their June meeting in the court house by Dr.

Herbert C. Allemen, professor emeritus of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. He entertained the historians with his recollections of the Gettysburg he found when he came here at the age of 14 from Shippensburg to prepare for entrance to Gettsburg college at the academy. "Dignified"

was the term most often applied to the town and its leading citizens of that day. "The aspect of Gettysburg in 1882 was more like that of a Southern town than any other picture I can draw," he said. "Dignity was one of its chief products in that day. Even its leading merchants wore frock coats and cutaways and their business was conducted in a dignified way. Goods were not thrown at you or jammed into show windows and you did not have bills proclaiming special premiums thrust upon you." His first impression of the town was of its charm, "a little town nestled

Today's Talk

DOUBT

Walk out into the sun-kissed air of a cloudless June day, lift your face to the reaching sun rays that warm the pores of your skin and make them tingle and glow, then breathe into your lungs the pure air of the outdoor world.

Climb a hill. Find a woods or forest and let your feet wander. Listen to each happy bird of the wild.

Then lean over and pluck the waiting flowers that have grown above the grass and about the scattered cast-offs of nature. Smell them. Look into their clean and wholesome faces. Draw into your heart their fragrant scent.

Can you at any time doubt there is a living God somewhere in this universe who does not care whether these flowers live or not?

Yet every day we see greater wonders in this world than a flower—gorgeous as is this beautiful creation—miracles of courage, patience and control. Still, to the most favored of us all comes all too often some phase of doubt that leaves us wondering.

It isn't a dishonest thing to doubt. If it were, I fear there would be no honest people in this world.

But we are frail beings. Many of our dearest hopes are crushed in failure, after years of work and planning. Loved ones are taken from us with hardly a word of warning. Disasters sweep the land, leaving behind their cruel thrusters of rack and ruin.

And we doubt—wondering why.

But I do not believe that this doubt was ever meant to blast the blooming beauty of our faith. For is not faith built upon doubt in somewhat the same way that success is built upon failure?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Publicity"

"I Speak for Thaddeus Stevens" in her review of the volume in Sunday's book review section of the Philadelphia Bulletin. "The heart of Pennsylvania beats in this biography by the distinguished Elsie Singmaster. To all

Pennsylvanians, and especially to those who have sojourned in the beautiful Cumberland Valley, this book is a gallery of familiar landscapes painted by an artist.

She brings her powers of authorship to a peak in the history of

Thaddeus Stevens, Pennsylvania's adopted son who fought unremittingly against slavery with the tongue of an adder. The book is a living portrait and a vindication. Miss Singmaster has flung out a beautiful banner of justification. You could never defend Stevens; he would be the first to resent it. He fought for railroads and education free for all in this state. He fought for Civil Rights after the Civil War. He fought his objectives. He never retracted

Just Folks

THROWING OUT THE LADY

I do not like so rough to be

With one so very friendly, but

No more of you I want to see.

Against you now the door I shut.

Yes, I've dismissed you off before,

But now I throw you out once more.

I've thought you fair, but I've been told

By men who really claim to know

That underneath your charms you hold.

The deadly weapons of a foe.

To put it plain, the gossips say

You've many loves along the way.

They say insidious are your wiles,

And, like Othello, I have heard,

For all the public are your smiles.

So now get out without a word.

Out, wanton temptress! I am through

Forever and a day with you!

A slave to you I will not be.

Henceforth I'll live a life serene.

No more shall people say to me

I flirt with Lady Nicotine.

I'm sure that I can get along Without you—but I may be wrong.

Minnesota Twins Climb Into 2nd Spot With Win Over A's; Yanks Hold 1st

The Minnesota Twins climbed a notch toward the American League top Thursday, beating Kansas City 5-2 behind the pitching of right-hander Joe Bonkowski and the key hitting of Rich Rollins.

That victory, coupled with the New York Yankees 4-0 shutout of Cleveland reshuffled the top of the standings. The Yanks kept their hold on first place, but Minnesota jumped up to second—one game out—and the Indians fell to third, two games behind.

In other games—Boston tripped Detroit 5-4, Chicago beat Los Angeles 8-4, and Baltimore crushed Washington 12-5.

YANKS SWEEP SERIES

Bonkowski, 21, a slender Pennsylvanian, held the Athletics to six hits. He struck out five and did not allow a walk, winning his fifth against four losses.

Kansas City starter Dave Wickert took the defeat.

Bill Stafford's shutout was the Yanks' second straight over Cleveland in their abbreviated two-game series with the Indians.

Stafford faced only 29 men, retiring the first 10 in order.

10TH MARIS HOMER

Roger Maris led off the fourth with his 10th homer for New York's first hit off loser Jim Perry, and it stayed 1-0 until the Yankees got three insurance runs in the eighth.

The Red Sox nipped the Tigers with an eighth inning run. Before that it had been a home run duel, with pitcher Earl Wilson and Gary Geiger connecting for Boston and Rocky Colavito and Jake Wood for Detroit. Arnold Earley was the winning pitcher and Ron Kline the loser.

Al Smith sparked the White Sox over the Angels, getting five hits in five tries. In all, Chicago batters collected 14 hits off five Los Angeles pitchers, starting with loser Eli Grba.

Eddie Fisher got the victory in relief of Juan Pizarro.

The Orioles scored in all but two innings against the Senators, hammered out 14 hits, collected seven walks and rolled up their biggest score of the season. Jack Fisher was Baltimore's starting pitcher but failed to last past the third. He was taken out after Chuck Hinton's two-run homer and Billy Hoeltz went the rest of the way. Washington left-hander Pete Burnside, chased in the Orioles' four-run second, was the loser.

LIFT SADECKI SUSPENSION

ST. LOUIS (AP)—All is harmony, at least on the surface, in the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals, where a small tempest boiled up over young southpaw pitcher Ray Sadecki.

It all started Tuesday night when Sadecki gave up five runs on two home run balls and made two errors in one inning against Cincinnati.

Manager Johnny Keane said Sadecki was goofing off, called it the poorest effort he had ever seen on a major league diamond and fined the 21-year-old $50,000 bonus baby $250.

Sadecki went into a sulk and didn't bother to show up for the next night's game.

Keane, backed up by General Manager Bing Devine, suspended Sadecki, who has a 2-3 record.

Sadecki demanded that he be traded and Devine said that was out of the question.

Thursday afternoon Sadecki, Devine and Keane went into a session behind closed doors and after the meeting Devine issued a terse statement that said Keane and Sadecki "resolved their differences." Sadecki's suspension has been lifted.

CALIMER SETS PACE IN SOUTH PENN BATTING

Fairfield's Lee Calimer is leading the batters in the South Penn Baseball League with a .451 average after nearly one-third of the season has been completed.

Official statistics released by the South Penn today showed that the big shortstop has collected 14 hits in 31 trips to the plate, including three doubles, a triple and a home run.

Calimer is also the top man in collecting hits (14), but his teammate Don Shriver is close behind with 13 safeties. Calimer has scored 13 runs for Fairfield to be tops in the league in that category.

Tom Cline of Arendtsville leads the league in doubles, having batted out four two-baggers. John Ebaugh of Taneytown, Guy McClellan of Fairfield and Ron Wiegall of New Oxford have each slammed out two triples to pace the league. Laverne Shultz of Arendtsville is the leading home run hitter with two of the long blows to his credit.

PACES PITCHERS

In pitching statistics, Bob Weaver of Littlestown has posted a six-win and no-loss record and has struck out 69 while registering those six victories. Arendtsville's Dic Pitzer is second in strikeouts with 51 to his credit. Vance Johnston of Gettysburg has fanned 43 batters.

Other pitchers with no loss records (at least two wins) are Bud Reichart of New Oxford (3-0), George Seiferd of Fairfield (3-0), Larry Eckert of Gettysburg (2-0) and John Ebaugh of Taneytown (2-0).

The statistics were compiled with the cooperation of the Gettysburg Times using box scores forwarded to the Times after each game by the home team's official scorer.

Two Men And Boy Nabbed In Robberies

YORK, Pa. (AP) — State police said today a three-month series of burglaries in the York area has been solved with the arrest of two men and a 17-year-old boy.

Officers arrested the three Thursday night at their homes in the Red Lion area.

Charged with burglary were Glen V. Kunkle, 24, and Ray D. Boyd, 22. The boy was turned over to juvenile authorities.

Cpl. Alfred J. Corkran said the three admitted taking merchandise valued at $5,000 to $7,000 from 15 business establishments.

Most of the loot was recovered, Corkran said. It took three truckloads to haul it away from the homes of the accused.

Some of the merchandise was thrown into the Susquehanna River at Shenks's Ferry. State police divers were to make a search in an attempt to recover it.

and the use of hallways for patient beds.

SHOW $29,789 LOSS

However, the overall occupancy at the Warner Hospital so far in 1962 is 61.90 per cent of its 99-bed capacity as against 68.77 per cent in the same period in 1961 and 70.31 per cent in 1960.

With the physical area almost doubled, higher operating costs have combined with the lower census to result in a $29,789.88 loss as at May 31.

Comptroller Donald Z. Wagner and Administrator Walter B. Dillon said one of the factors that have caused an all-time high in accounts receivable are insurance cases now in litigation between companies and individuals in accident cases. In this connection they indicated one case involves an account of over $7,000 covering several years service.

Wagner and Dillon are developing a plan of procedure for the payment of hospital bills which they will submit to the directors before the end of the fiscal year.

Alert to the necessity that the general cash resources of the hospital be bolstered, directors asked that the plan be expedited and that steps be taken immediately to affect the maximum collections possible.

MD'S TO COOPERATE

"Maintaining a 100-bed hospital on accreditation standards is expensive," Dr. Hale said, "but no lesser standard can be tolerated. All phases of the operation must be scrutinized to reduce operating costs to the minimum without destroying efficiency or lowering standards."

"Rates and charges for services must be held at reasonable levels consistent with high standards of medical and hospital procedure. It is essential that not only the public but the medical people should be intimately acquainted with the fiscal problems of our hospital and I am sure the medical staff can prove helpful in solving some of the problems that are normal and which confront all hospitals today."

President Bigham and President-elect Teeter plan close collaboration during the closing days of the fiscal year so there will be no delay in taking steps to meet the pressing situation.

On recommendation of the staff, Dr. John Adams Grant, Hanover, was elected to the consulting staff in pediatrics.

Following comments by President Bigham concerning his 23 years of service as secretary, the directors gave Henry Scharf a rising vote of thanks.

Terrorism

France's high commissioner in Algeria, Christian Fouchet, was summoned to Paris by President Charles de Gaulle for urgent consultation.

The mysterious halt in secret army terrorism throughout the morning was a surprise, for new fire attacks on government buildings and economic installations in the scorched earth campaign had been expected.

Flames shot high over Oran-Algeria's second largest city—Thursday night after a booby-trapped tank truck exploded and spread flaming gasoline over a new high school used as a police barracks.

COMMANDOS STRIKE

Secret army commandos struck almost simultaneously at a big natural gas tank in the same part of town and set it afire.

The fiery attacks in Oran came a few hours after three phosphorus bombs started a fire that gutted the main building of Algiers University, in the capital.

With the resumption of the terrorism—including the indiscriminate shooting down of Moslems—came more evidence of the rift in the secret army between the diehards and those ready to give up the fight.

Coming out of hiding, terrorist leader Jean Georges Sarraudet called a news conference to appeal to the diehards to quit.

"We have lost the battle," he said.

ASKS FOR AMNESTY

Sarraudet coupled his call with a plea to Moslem nationalists to grant the secret army a general amnesty to pave the way for a peaceful future in the new Algeria.

Moslem leaders demanded European settlers show their repudiation of the secret army or risk their future in the country when Algeria becomes independent.

Plans went ahead for the July 1 self-determination referendum. The Moslem high command warned the Europeans if they boycott the vote, it will be taken as a clear demonstration they are obeying the dictates of the secret army.

BAPTISTS FACE CONTROVERSY OVER CONTROL; MAY BAN BOOK

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Strong support was indicated at the Southern Baptist Convention today for a move to tighten the doctrinal reins on seminaries and other denominational agencies. An effort also was being pushed to ban a Baptist-published book, "The Message of Genesis." Such a step, however, described as unprecedented in Baptist history, faced keen opposition from influential church leaders. Both proposals came on a tide of charges by conservative forces that so-called "liberal" theological trends were evident in church institutions. Demands were made for stricter controls.

The issue has stirred a running controversy in the 10-million-member church body in recent times. The denomination's 51-member executive committee sought to head off an open clash on the matter Wednesday by putting through a plan for drafting a statement on just what historic Baptists believe are. SHUN BINDING CREEDS Baptists have always shunned binding creeds. However, the maneuver failed to check the calls for stronger action. The Rev. Dr. K. Owen White of Houston introduced a resolution protesting "dissemination of theological views in any of our seminaries which would undermine faith in the historical accuracy and doctrinal integrity of the Bible." The views disapproved were not specified. However, another minister, The Rev. Ralph Powell, of Kansas City, leveled the book-banning resolution at the recently issued "The Message of Genesis" by Dr. Ralph Elliott, an Old Testament scholar. Powell's proposal asks that the denominational publishing house, Broadman Press, recall all copies of the book, and cease circulating it. In it, Dr. Elliott, of Midwestern Theological Seminary, Kansas City, supports the views that parts of the religious truths expressed in Genesis are couched in parable rather than literal terms. The convention Wednesday re-elected the Rev. Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs of Oklahoma City to a second term as president.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

June Bride

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BAY STATE HAS TO DECIDE ON TED OR EDDIE

By ARTHUR EDSON

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Bickering Massachusetts Democrats try to simmer down enough tonight to get a preliminary answer to this politically explosive question:

Who will it be, Teddy or Eddie?

In more formal language, will the Democrats endorse Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, brother of the President, or the state attorney general, Edward J. McCormack Jr., nephew of House Speaker John McCormack, for U.S. senator?

Party chieftains will put in a full day before reaching their big decision, probably late tonight. Both men—Teddy is 30, Eddie is 38—flashed brilliant, confident smiles and claimed victory.

BOTH CONFIDENT

Kennedy—"We will have a clear majority" with possibly 1,000 votes.

McCormack—"I have 916." Since it takes 862 votes to win if all the delegates are present, somebody's arithmetic is remarkably shoddy.

Charges and counter-charges flew. McCormack told a news conference he is "doing the President a favor" by attempting to defeat his brother.

"There is a lot of talk about the national dynasty issue now," he explained. "The Republicans would have the greatest domestic issue if Ted is elected, but if Ted is defeated the dynasty issue is dead."

DENY CHARGE

Kennedy denied emphatically at his own news session rumors that income tax investigations, deportation proceedings and promises of postmasterships were being used to swing delegates into his camp. McCormack specifically mentioned 52 postmasterships left unfilled.

Kennedy answered that such charges "insult the integrity" of McCormack supporters.

McCormack charges pressure and "arm-twisting" have been used to lure his delegates. He said he has affidavits to prove such pressure but did not want to use them because they could hurt the President in 1964.

Kennedy made an unqualified denial that either of his brothers, the President or Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had used their influence to help him.

There will be a strawberry and ice cream festival for the congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Saturday, June 16, at 8 p.m. in the church social hall. There will be entertainment and a free-will offering will be received. The affair is being sponsored by the officers and teachers of the Primary Department.

The June meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion will be held at the post home, E. King St., next Wednesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Howard O. Myers and Mrs. Robert W. Gouker will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz was delegate from the auxiliary to the quarterly meeting of the Four-County Council on Thursday in Waynesboro. The council had election of officers and Mrs. Bishop Gormney, Chambersburg, was elected a director. Mrs. James W. Fager, president, will be representative from the local unit.

"SHARE TIME" FOR CATHOLICS BEING DEBATED

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Should Roman Catholic schools, under the pressure of heavy enrollments and the controversy about state and federal aid, work toward "share time" partnership with public schools?

Two Catholic superintendents of schools debate the question in articles in the June issue of The Catholic Educator.

The Very Rev. Arthur T. Geoghegan, superintendent of schools of the diocese of Providence, R.I., who favors the recently suggested plan, begins his discussion with a definition:

TERM DEFINED

"Briefly stated, shared time means that a pupil in a church-sponsored school would receive part of his instruction in a neighboring public school and part in the church-sponsored school. He might, for instance, attend classes in spelling, penmanship, mathematics and science in the public school and study religion, history and literature in the church-related school."

Msgr. Geoghegan and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Justin A. Driscoll, superintendent of schools of the archdiocese of Dubuque, Iowa, agree on the point that the optimum educational plan, in the Catholic viewpoint, is a full-time program in a church-affiliated school.

However, Msgr. Geoghegan asks, "To how many children are Catholic schools available? With more than 25 per cent of the children born annually in the United States, baptized Catholics, fewer than half of them can hope to attend Catholic elementary schools. Catholic secondary schools can accommodate still fewer. By 1970 only one out of every three Catholic children will be able to attend a Catholic school."

OPPOSES PLAN

Msgr. Driscoll, who opposes shared time, says, "I do not favor the shared time plan simply because I do not think it is sharing anything."

"About the only thing it shares, or establishes, is the fact that the child has a right to participate in part-time instruction of the public school; that the school can legally collect money for doing a half-time job, perhaps in the physical sciences and in the practical or manual arts."

And, Msgr. Driscoll says, "I also find it difficult to fit this program into the Catholic viewpoint on education."

2 DEMOCRATS FACING TRIAL

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Two Democratic Party workers are scheduled for trial June 18 following their indictment for conspiracy and violation of election laws.

A Cambria County grand jury handed down the indictments Thursday against Mrs. Ann Bizjak of Franklin Borough and William Joseph, Democratic chairman of Franklin and president of the borough council.

The state claims Joseph had illegal possession of absentee ballots for the May 15 primary and induced Mrs. Bizjak to cast ballots other than her own.

At a preliminary hearing Tuesday, Mrs. Bizjak testified that she marked ballots issued to Michael and Anna Palasik, also of Franklin. She said she did so at Joseph's request and said she thought Joseph had brought in the ballots with the consent of the Palasiks.

Defense Move Fails In Murder Trial

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—A defense move to head off a new murder trial for 19-year-old Donald Montgomery of Brackenridge has been denied by Judge Clyde S. Shumaker of Butler County.

Shumaker had declared a mistrial May 31 at the request of defense attorney Hugh S. Millar. Millar later argued that Montgomery could not be tried again on the same charge—the arson-death of 69-year-old Mrs. Pauline Ritter of Cabot last Jan. 20.

Judge Shumaker ruled Thursday the principle of double-jeopardy does not apply in this case.

Montgomery's new trial is scheduled for June 18.

Judge Shumaker ruled the mistrial on grounds the prosecutor used prejudicial remarks in his summation.

GIRL, 6, KILLED

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Six-year-old Bonnie Jane Lear of Hollidaysburg R. 2, was killed by a car while riding a bicycle about a mile east of this Blair County town Thursday. Police said she rode her bicycle out of a driveway and was struck.

DIES AFTER FALL

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Pinder, 71, of Burgettstown, Washington County, died Thursday in Mercy Hospital of injuries suffered in a fall at his home. Pinder died of a skull fracture received when he fell down a flight of stairs.

"The fundamental principles upon which Christian education is based must be observed in every aspect of the curriculum."

Let's Look At The Record

ONE FOR EIGHT
New Book Supports Congressional Opposition To McNamara's Army Plan

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT, war correspondent and author, wrote prophetically of the problems of World War II back in 1937.

His and Col. R. E. Dupuy's "If War Comes" and "The Ramparts We Watch," 1938, rather accurately foretold some of the major manpower problems and retooling for mechanization that did confront America in 1941.

Of course, he was not a hundred per cent on the button. No one could have predicted Pearl Harbor and America fighting a two-front war with armies massed in both the Pacific and Europe simultaneously.

Nevertheless, their prevision was with crystal clarity compared to the bogged down thinking and trench-war concepts of the War Department General Staff and its then chief, Gen. Malin Craig. They guided the military thinking of Secretary of War Woodring through those years of near fatal errors.

Gen. Craig was an old cavalryman. An army without horses was, to him, no army. As late as 1939 the equivalent of six peace strength divisions of Guardsmen and Regulars were feeding the hay burners. Mechanized cavalry was still "experimental." Public opinion had forced the experimentation.

As late as 1941, up to Pearl Harbor, the General Staff under Gen. George C. Marshall was trying to salvage the noble horse for combat with specially created regiments of truck-borne cavalry. The idea was to haul the horses, in enormous vans, to the area of deployment whence the war would proceed in boots and saddles!

ONCE AGAIN America has a new and inexperienced secretary of defense. Even in the field of his fame, Ford automobiles, Mr. McNamara was capable of a vast mistake such as the Edsel, a re-styled Mercury, at a time that the public was clamoring for a compact. No manufacturer ever missed a richer harvest.

But Mr. McNamara should not be criticized exclusively for this. He listened to sales experts. They erred. Even so, men of McNamara's background do not trust public and congressional opinion. Quite naturally he turns to the Army General Staff as the experts.

The present General Staff thinking on military personnel is essentially the same as was that of Malin Craig and his General Staff in 1939; i.e., warfare has become so technical that citizen soldiers cannot be depended upon. Only the full-time professional is capable of mastering its mysteries and techniques.

This is the basic philosophy back of the Staff's recommendations for sacrificing of functional and inexpensive National Guard formations to balance a budget in behalf of the professionals.

SECRETARY McNAMARA would do well to consult history in general and George Fielding Eliot's timely book, "Reserve Forces and the Kennedy Strategy" (Stackpole Company, $2.75), in particular.

The public and Congress have been right on the questions of military preparedness far more frequently than have the experts in the Army. The General Staff of 1916 had no plans for mobilizing the National Guard on the Border as a diplomatic power play to preclude an all-out war with Mexico.

President Wilson and the Guardsmen did it. Mexican leaders began talking sense and the Border raids ceased. Kennedy's recent minor mobilization involved approximately the same number of men, 155,000. It worked equally well. Khrushchev immediately became conciliatory.

The National Guard units thus mobilized did their jobs exceedingly well. The Army's staff experts muffed the job of fillers to bring the Guard and reserve units to war strength.

The General Staff is now citing its own errors as an excuse for expanding the professional establishment. One Regular wears the same price tag as eight Guardsmen. Perhaps America needs more of both, but swapping eight for one is nonsense.

Congress thinks so and Congress is right. History says so.

IT IS TO THIS problem that the seasoned and experienced Mr. Eliot gives his undivided attention.

Mr. Eliot agrees most vigorously with Congress. He argues for National Guard and Reserve units always in being, with responsibility for keeping them at functional strength centered upon the company commanders, as it has always been in the Guard.

Eliot cites the mistakes of "machine picked fillers" to bring their units to strength. Such personnel must be preselected and attached to the unit. Full TO/E must be immediately available if not in actual possession of the

He is a 1960 graduate of Biglerville High School.

At a time when Europe still believed sick people were possessed by devils, the practice of healing became an art in Arabia. Custodians of Greek and Roman science, the Arabs blended the best of Syrian, Persian and Indian medicine during the ninth to 11th centuries. So esteemed was medicine that physicians enjoyed such rare privileges as dining with the caliph, remaining seated in his presence and treating members of the royal family. Some even became court officials. Early in the period, no man was more respected than Johannitus, the "shahk of translators," credited with translating some 200 works of Aristotle, Galen and Hippocrates. The most original clinician was Rhazes. Popular because of his pleasing bedside manner, Rhazes was a busy practitioner, hospital head and consultant. Yet he found time to pen over 235 tracts. More than 300 years after his death, his famous "al-Hawi" was one of nine books in the Paris medical school library. Rhazes was followed by the brightest star of all — Avicenna. The unorthodox, argumentative physician wrote a comprehensive "Canon of Medicine" that was the medical Bible for six centuries. Despite the brilliance of Rhazes and Avicenna, surgery remained suspect until Al-Bucasis, "Islam's greatest surgeon," raised its stature. Many of his procedures and instruments have been refined only slightly to this day. Avicenna, working in Spain, was first to detect throat cancer; and in Cairo, Alhazen diagramed the intricacies of the eye. These men and others created a body of medicine matchless in its scope and lasting impact.

Perhaps because Arabia Felix supplied the world with exotic herbs and spices, pharmacy reached new heights under the Arabs. Even today the term "Arabian medicine" means cure by natural methods, and as far back as Rhazes unit at all times. More full-time technicians and training opportunities must be available to the Guardsmen. Eliot calls for "detailed active plans to overcome administrative retardation."

And how right Mr. Eliot is. Every Guardsman in Wisconsin knows the long delay in home towns before the 32nd Division left for Camp Lewis was wholly unnecessary.

The Arabs believed that no other remedy should be prescribed when a physician could heal through diet. Not content to use only native "materia medica," they scoured the globe for other medicinals. From the Hindus they borrowed aconite and mercury, and expeditions returned with senna, camphor, sandalwood and tamarind. These substances — as well as ambergris for cramps, colchicum for arthritis, borax as a dentifrice — were in common use. Avicenna listed some 760 drugs that came from Arab laboratories, where raw drugs were evaporated, filtrated, crystallized and distilled. Some drugs were rendered more palatable by mixing them with syrups, gums and fruit rinds. Early Arab physicians compounded their own medicines, but when drugs became highly diversified, pharmacology came into being. The Arabian pharmacist, like the doctor, was universally renowned for his knowledge and integrity. Rigorously supervised by "muhtasibs," inspectors appointed by the caliphs to keep watch over occupations relating to public health, pharmacy developed into a revered profession second only to medicine. The two went hand in hand to create a golden age in Muslim medicine.

Airman Basic Fred S. Cookerly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Cookerly Jr. of Hampton, has been reassigned to the United States Air Force technical training course for inflight refueling systems specialists at Sheppard AFB, Tex. He has completed his basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., and was selected for the advanced course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes.

Institute reported today.

The institute said insurance companies paid this amount in health insurance benefits to the public through the end of March, and said the sum was 10.9 per cent higher than the $854 million distributed in the first three months of 1961.

In all of 1961, an estimated total of $6.3 billion in benefits was paid by insurance companies, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and other health care plans. Nearly $3.4 billion of these benefits came from insurance companies, including some $855 million to persons covered by policies which replace income lost through disability, the institute said.

Benefit payments this year by insurance companies are running ahead of last year for all five types of health insurance—hospital expense, surgical expense, regular medical expense and loss of income.

In the first three months of 1962, the institute said, $374 million in benefits was paid by insurance companies to persons covered by hospital expense policies, up more than 11 per cent over the $336 million paid out in the first quarter of 1961.

Surgical expense insurance accounted for $117 million in benefits from insurance companies, a six per cent increase over the $110 million paid out in 1961's first quarter, said the institute.

Benefits paid to persons covered by regular medical expense policies, which help pay for the cost of medical treatment and care other than surgery, increased six per cent, from $32 million to $34 million.

Major medical expense insurance, which provides benefits ranging from $5,000 to $15,000 or higher to help offset the cost of serious illness, showed the greatest increase in benefits. Major medical benefits climbed 24 per cent on an increase from $138 million to $171 million in 1962's first three months.

Loss of income payments, including accidental death and dismemberment benefits, amounted to $251 million in the first three months of this year, up more than five per cent over the $238 million of the same period in 1961.

SCIENCE PUZZLE

One hot August day in South Dakota, a boy shouted to his father: "Fire!" As the farmer came running the youngster whirled him around and pointed:

"Over there. It's coming fast!"

On the far horizon hovered a column of angry yellow smoke, coiling and uncoiling like a snake about to attack. The smoke was being pushed toward the farm by the wind, and the family saw the glare of the flames.

"Hurry!" shouted the farmer. "Get the truck."

Moments later the whole family was aboard a flat, sideless truck, rushing toward the smoke. From all directions families boarded trucks and rushed across the low prairie hills.

Fighting the flames by digging trenches, the farmer recalled a faded yellow letter written by his grandfather years ago:

"Life on the American prairie will always have its perils — blizzards, tornadoes, droughts — and fire. A prairie fire is an awful thing — almost uncontrollable.

"This is lonely country, which makes the perils seem greater. We miss the trees, which would make it seem friendly. We can never understand why so rich a land produces only grass — no trees."

Riding home that night, the tired family watched the sun set behind their farm. The crop had been saved and the ripe golden wheat looked splendid as it spread across the prairie.

The great American prairie, an unexplained phenomenon, is less lonesome these days as prosperous farms, cities and towns spread. But the lack of trees, except where man has planted and protected them, still puzzles science.

Most Students Seek Work During Summer Vacations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

America's teen-agers apparently do not believe that the best things in life are free.

Not many of them, as they pour out of the nation's high schools and colleges for summer vacations, are dreaming of a shady river bank and a fishing pole.

They are more likely to be dreaming of hustling boxes in a warehouse, sitting behind a desk in an office, running a tractor, or any of a hundred other occupations.

When school's out, they want the money coming in.

WANT THE MONEY

A Connecticut employment official disagrees. It's not lack of something to do, he says, but simply money that sends the boys and girls out to hunt jobs.

College expenses are going up every year, he says, and youngsters now feel they must have things once considered luxuries—television sets, radios, cars.

Dr. Lawrence Shepsher, public school superintendent at Wichita, Kan., thinks the teen-agers get "fed up with working just with their heads, with abstract, academic courses."

MORE OF THEM, TOO

"They need and want laboratory experience, working with their hands—and they have an impelling desire to earn their own money and to be independent," he said.

Practically all the experts point out that, in addition to the other reasons cited, there's a simple statistical reason for so many youthful job-hunters—the fact that there was a baby boom at the end of World War II. The same population explosion that jams the schools the rest of the year is jamming the employment offices now.

And the sad fact is that in practically all areas of the country, only a fraction of those seeking full-time jobs will find them.

SPECIAL EFFORT

The Texas Unemployment Commission has put a new group of youth coordinators on the job after its experience last year, when it was able to find 3,170 permanent jobs and 1,838 summer jobs for young people—but had 16,000 applicants.

Florida's State Employment Service estimates that only one out of three teen-aged job seekers found work last summer, and this summer will be about the same.

A New York state employment official, Alex Altheim, says that despite an extensive program of farm work for city boys, and various types of "made" summer work, "we couldn't possibly cope with the demand even if our entire staff was working only on summer jobs and not taking care of others at all."

JOB FOR A THIRD

Russell Hand, manager of the Omaha office of the Nebraska State Employment Service, makes a similar prediction—only about one-third of the expected 3,500 applicants will find jobs.

One big reason why it will be tough for the teen-agers to find jobs is that it is tough for many of their elders. In sections where adult unemployment is too high, employers who must pay minimum wages are more inclined to hire adults, even for seasonal work.

Mechanization on the farm has eliminated countless jobs, like the bean picking in Wisconsin that used to attract many youths, but is now done by machine.

MAYOR PERRY IS RE-ELECTED

TANEYTOWN — Raymond Perry was re-elected mayor of Taneytown in Monday's election. He was unopposed for the office and received 123 votes.

Incumbents Delmont Koons and Carol Frock were also re-elected to serve another two-year term on the town council. The tabulation of votes was Koons 102, Frock 95 and George Hemler 79.

Following the tabulation of votes, the mayor and council met for their regular monthly meeting. Crouse Motor Sales was the low bidder for the purchase of a new police car. Surfacing of a short stretch of street from Sterling Fritz TV Repair to the road-rail property was also approved at a cost of $290.

Following one week of duty, Officer James Marshall Boone submitted his report which showed 26 parking violations, seven warning tickets and one ticket for exceeding a 30 mph speed limit.

The town clerk reported a balance of $16,771.15 in the general account and $4,046.08 in the parking meter fund. Maitland Brothers was paid $5,000 on account with the balance payable upon completion of all work. Stegman and Co., C.P.A.'s, was again em-

FREE WOMAN IN BABY'S DEATH

Mrs. Phyllis Savoy May, Taneytown R. 2, was found not guilty of manslaughter by Chief Judge James E. Boylan Jr., Carroll County circuit court, in a criminal case tried in Westminster Tuesday before the court.

Mrs. May was charged with manslaughter in the death of her two-year-old niece, Rose Marie May.

Mrs. Ruth Click, Taneytown R. 1, told how Mrs. May went to her home on Friday, March 2, about 11:45 a.m. and asked her to call a doctor because Rose Marie May was sick. She said she called a doctor and also called the child's mother who was at work.

The witness said that she went to the home and checked the child and that she seemed to be dead.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES

Dr. R. S. McVaugh, Taneytown, testified that he went to the home and found the child lying on the bed and was unable to determine the cause of death. He stated that the only marks on the child that he could find was a bruise mark on the outer upper portion of the right eyelid.

Mrs. Anna May, the mother of the child, told the court that when she arrived she found that the child was dead and was told that the children had been fighting.

Upon cross examination by Philip Goodman, defense counsel, Mrs. Anna May admitted that several of her children had been in the care of Mrs. Phyllis May since the first of the year and that the care of them had been satisfactory. She said that she was able to see her children only on weekends.

played to audit the books.

Property owners were reminded that the weed ordinance is now in effect and will be enforced.

The July meeting of council has been moved forward to June 25 due to the vacation plans during the week of July 4. A budget meeting has been set for July 23 at which time the finances of the town will be checked for 1962-63.

Senate Bars Red Nations From Foreign Aid From U.S.

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has jolted the Kennedy administration by directing that no slice of next year's foreign aid pie go to a Communist or Marxist dominated nation.

While Secretary of State Dean Rusk was lamenting Wednesday's Senate action as most unfortunate, administration leaders marshaled their forces to fight off another onslaught on the $4.7-billion authorization measure—an effort to lop off $400 million.

The aid restriction—still to be considered by the House—is aimed directly at Yugoslavia and Poland, the two Communist nations which receive U.S. help.

The administration takes the view that by assisting the two it acts to wean them away from domination by the Soviet Union. But the amendment's author, Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, declared in Wednesday's debate that any aid granted to a Communist country "can never be in the interest of the security of the United States—it can only be in the interest of the promulgation of international communism."

DEMS BOLT JFK

The Lausche amendment passed by a 57-24 vote when 34 Democrats turned a deaf ear to a White House plea and sided with 23 Republicans. Voting with the administration were 18 Democrats and 6 Republicans.

If accepted by the House, which has yet to act on its version of the bill, the amendment would specifically prohibit $10 million in development loans to Yugoslavia next fiscal year, and ban shipments of surplus agricultural commodities to Yugoslavia and Poland.

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—Two persons were killed and three others injured Thursday in a traffic accident on U.S. 40 between Aberdeen and Edgewood in Harford County.

State police said the injured were taken to the Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace. The fatal accident happened near the Bata Shoe Co. factory and involved a tractor-trailer and a pick-up truck. State police said traffic was temporarily tied up following the accident.

State police tentatively identified the dead as Francis Nipper, 38, of near Bel Air, and Julie Ellen

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — Paul Smith, Westminster, discussed the Medical Care Bill for the Aged and amplified his talk with tape recordings of various interviews at a meeting of the Federation of Republican Women of Taneytown Tuesday evening at the Taney Inn, Taneytown.

Guests introduced were Leonard Sherman, Mt. Airy, and Jacob Yingling, candidates for the House of Delegates; Jack Hahn, Westminster, and newly-elected mayor of Taneytown, Raymond Perry, who is also seeking a seat on the county commission.

The next meeting of the Republican Women will be held on September 4 at the Taneytown Memorial Park. Candidates for the various state and county offices will be honored guests at the covered dish social for the club members, husbands and guests.

Robert College, an American school in Turkey, was founded by a New York businessman a hundred years ago. Ninety per cent of its students are Turkish.

Nipper, 40, presumably his wife. One of the injured was tentatively identified as John C. Monk of Rt. 2, Bel Air, a passenger in the Nipper pick-up truck. State police said the occupants of the tractor-trailer were identified tentatively as Marian Harris of Radford, Va., and Wilmer Alan Gardner of Martinsville, Va.

SAO Sets Fire To University Building In Algiers Sector

ALGIERS (AP) — The Secret Army Organization struck again Thursday as promised, returning to its terror campaign by mowing down Moslems and setting fire to Algiers University, Algeria's main seat of learning.

Three phosphorous bombs shattered the inside of the massive science and medicine building as the terrorists carried the threat of a scorched earth campaign into the heart of the city.

Firemen gave up hope of saving the main building as flames roared out of the large windows. Black smoke shrouded the heart of Algiers.

Crowds of Europeans and French soldiers watched the blaze from the sidewalk of Rue Michelet and adjacent Boulevard St. Saens. KILL 4 MOSLEMS

Wind-whipped flames seared the treetops of the university garden. Earlier Thursday, European terrorists struck at groups of Moslems with pistol and machine-gun attacks, killing four Moslems.

The precarious truce which gave the city a new breath of life during the past seven days thus came to a shattering end.

Lodge Defeated For GOP Nomination In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a plain-talking, apple-growing congressman, has won the Republican nomination for U.S. senator from Connecticut.

Seely-Brown, 54, scored a stunning upset over former Gov. John Davis Lodge Wednesday at a dramatic Republican state convention. Although the pre-convention underdog, he swamped Lodge on the first ballot, 476 to 149.

John Alsop of Avon, an insurance executive, received the gubernatorial nomination earlier after a record eight roll calls that began Tuesday afternoon.

NOMINATE NEGRO

The delegates broke another tradition by nominating the first Negro for a statewide office in Connecticut on the ticket of either party. William D. Graham, 47, an attorney who was born in Montgomery, Ala., was nominated for state treasurer without opposition.

Although the convention completed a state ticket to confront the Democrats this fall, Republicans may be in for some more excitement in the next few days.

Rocher Noir east of Algiers, French officials received the news of the new terror war in dark pessimism.

"They are destroying the last chance of reconciliation with Moslems," one official said.

Both Lodge and Edwin H. May Jr., a defeated gubernatorial candidate, polled enough votes to challenge the convention nominees in statewide party primaries.

Neither committed himself either way on a primary.

Lodge noted he has until July 25 to decide whether to file primary petition. May said he would leave the question to his supporters, with whom he will meet here Sunday.

The nomination for congressman-at-large went to State Sen. John M. Lupton of Weston, 44, a conservative and an admirer of Arizona's Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater.

BARBERSHOP CHORUS WILL SING SATURDAY

A two-hour concert will be presented by the 25 member Cosmos Barbershop chorus on Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Littlestown High School auditorium. The local appearance of the chorus from Reisterstown is being sponsored jointly by the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Woman's Club. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. A visit by local Jaycees to the chorus rehearsal recently revealed the program. Refreshments will be available during intermission in the high school cafeteria.

The Littlestown Jaycees will complete their first major community service project of 1962 during this week, which is replacing of play equipment on the local playground. The project, suggested by a non-Jaycee, was undertaken several weeks ago and six swings, four see-saws and two Maypoles have been completely replaced. The trees bordering Maple Ave. were trimmed away from the playground equipment and the area was cleared of debris. The Borough Council has been approached by chapter members for assistance and Council provided the funds necessary for completion of the project, which will be entered into the State Jaycee Awards program. President Paul F. Boller extends his thanks to all cooperating Jaycees. Several years ago the chapter did a renovation job on Crouse Park under their community service program.

The annual stag party of the Junior Chamber will be held next Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Ralph Unger cottage, off the Pine Grove Rd., east of town. Jaycees Clyde Bucher, Wilmer Dutterer and Dean Selby comprise the committee on arrangements for the affair. All exhausted roosters and prospective members are invited to attend. Refreshments and entertainment will be provided.

Trainer Jim Fitzsimmons has received credit for saddling eight winners of the Wood Memorial, feature spring race at Aqueduct.

Republicans Adopt Party Principles For 1962 Campaign

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Republicans approved today a declaration of party principles for this year's election campaigns and coupled it with a broadside attack on Kennedy administration domestic and foreign policies.

The 2,500-word statement called for a thorough overhaul of the tax system, without specifically mentioning tax reduction, and for "a new direction for public policy in order to advance the cause of freedom at home and throughout the world."

Firing directly at President Kennedy, the Republicans said:

"The oft-heard campaign cry 'Get America Moving Again' has become a hollow echo."

The statement, entitled "A Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy," also said:

"NEITHER WIT NOR WILL"

"The current administration has shown little understanding of, or concern for, institutions that buttress freedom at home—separation of the powers, checks and balances, state and local responsibility, and a free competitive economy."

"It has demonstrated neither the wit nor the will to meet effectively the assault of international communism on freedom."

"We Republicans cannot witness the erosion of freedom without warning or protest."

The Republicans asserted that the overriding issue before the American electors in 1962 is:

"Which party acts more effectively to preserve and enlarge human freedom?"

Offering GOP alternatives in broad, nondetailed outline the statement attacked Kennedy administration actions and policy across a broad range of specific points. The list of targets ran from such matters as medical care for the aged and the injection of government into labor-management affairs, to the handling of the Berlin crisis and the decisions which the Republicans said permitted establishment of a Communist military base in Cuba 90 miles from the Florida coast.

The document is intended as a handbook for the 1962 congressional election campaigns.

It was drafted by a 12-member Senate-House committee after consultation with party leaders which included former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee, made public the document after it had been submitted to and approved by caucuses of Senate and House Republican members.

THE TWO FACES OF EVE.

Summertime makeup takes two directions. One leads to a matte-satin finish, the other to a dew-drenched look. As they are equally flattering and attractive, choosing between them is merely a matter of personal preference.

The matte make-up begins with a two-in-one foundation, a powder and base combined. It comes in several forms—cream in tubes, and pressed powder plus cream in a compact.

On the eyes, use either pressed-powder shadow, or the water color kind. The latter, as you might guess, is applied with a water-dampened brush. On the lips and fingertips, you want gleam without glare. And new matte lipsticks and enamels provide the effect.

The dewy make-up is based on cosmetics that impart shimmer. Creamy, lustrous foundations and eyeshadow are in this category, as are translucent loose powders. What's wanted in lipstick and nail enamel is a silvery patina—a silver note or sheen that is blended with color and so creates a very subtle sort of sparkle.

Of course there is no law that says you cannot use both make-ups and be an Eve with two faces, or even three. If only by way of contrast a silvery lipstick could be a bewitching accent to matte foundation and shadow. Matte nail enamel could be the gleam that

Look For Tax Relief Unless Business Recovery Picks Up

By STERLING F. GREEN
AP Economic Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless the business recovery unexpectedly catches fire, the 1963 tax bill which President Kennedy plans to send to Congress later this year will call for tax relief totaling perhaps $5 billion a year for industry and consumers.

Tax rates from top to bottom would be cut under the broad program now being drawn up by the administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon says the tax package is aimed at spurring maximum long-range economic growth. He says no decision has been made on how far to go in offsetting lower tax rates by broadening the base of the tax structure and closing loopholes.

FAVOR SOLID CUT

Most officials now are said to favor a solid tax reduction for business and consumers. It would be, in effect, a raise in take-home pay for workers, a source of fresh capital for investors and a boost in the after-tax profits of industry which would be available for reinvestment.

Estimates of the net tax relief are running as high as $7 billion. Five billion is more frequently mentioned, as being about the minimum cut which would make enough difference in consumers' paychecks to encourage purchases of new cars, homes and major appliances.

Reductions in the top income tax rate from 91 per cent to perhaps 65 per cent has been considered. At the other end of the taxable income scale, the basic 20 per cent might be dropped to 16 or 18 per cent.

SOME BAD NEWS

The corporation tax rate of 52 per cent probably would be cut to something below 50 per cent. A range of 47 to 49 per cent has been under discussion.

Some bad news would accompany the good. A whole bundle of reforms is under consideration, to eliminate the patchwork of special concessions and exemptions stitched onto the tax structure over the years for the benefit of special groups. But all taxpayers would come out ahead.

Such a tax reduction would mean at least one more year of budget deficit. Revenues presumably would be cut seriously in fiscal 1964, a year in which government spending is expected to rise to $95 or $96 billion. The anticipated increase of about $3 billion from this year's budgeted outlays is mainly the result of built-in increases in the space and military programs.

NEED STRONG MEDICINE

Despite the prospective red ink, most administration advisers are said to be convinced that strong medicine is needed to fortify—if not to rescue—Kennedy's grand strategy for American growth in a world of heightened competition. The Kennedy strategy is two-sided.

It Involves:

First, enlisting the cooperation of labor and management in keeping wage settlements and price decisions noninflationary.

Second, making it possible for business to amass the funds needed for modernization of the nation's industrial plant.

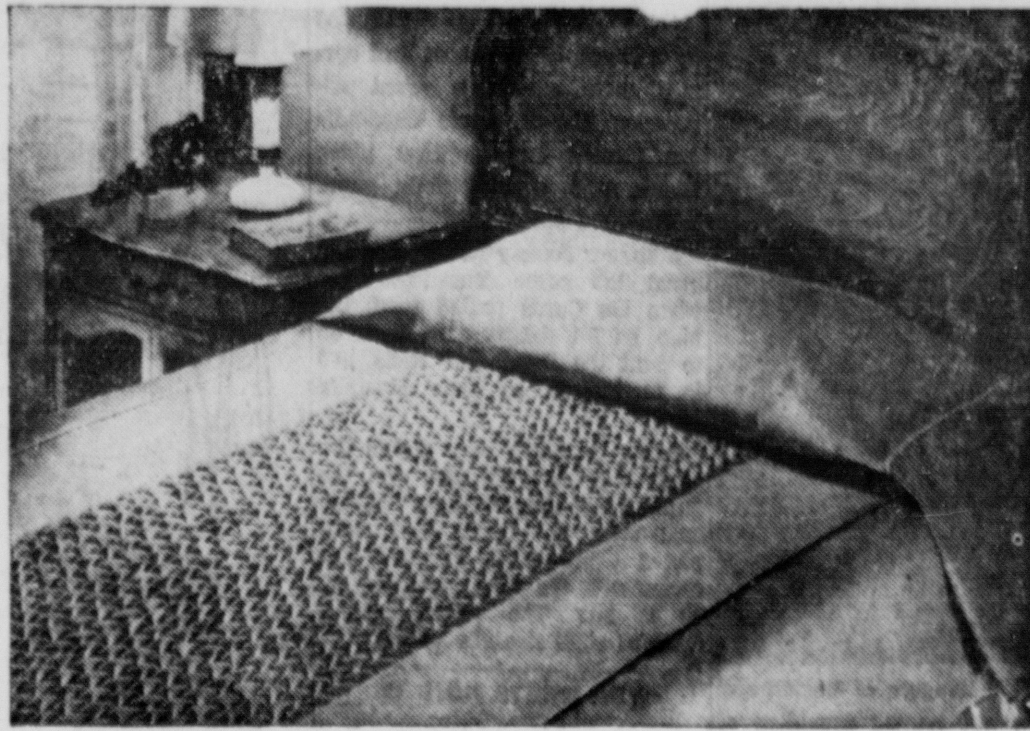

The first approach has run into grave trouble. Steelmakers rebelled at price restraint and set out to improve their profits in the traditional way — a price boost. Kennedy reacted angrily and forcefully to salvage his grand design.

The second approach is faring better. The Treasury shortly will issue liberalized tax allowances for depreciation on machinery and equipment, and Congress seems likely to enact most of Kennedy's first-phase tax revision program, built around a tax credit for big and little companies which invest in new plant equipment.

The administration is confident these measures will remove many of the financial obstacles to the cutting of costs and the improvement of efficiency. If so, they may incidentally make business less anti-Kennedy.

Baltimore's Steve Barber and Minnesota's Camilo Pascual both hurled eight American League shutouts in 1961.

HONG KONG'S LUCKIEST GIRL ON TODAY SHOW

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The luckiest girl in refugee-clogged Hong Kong was certainly Deanna Chu. She had American television connections.

They helped move her out of the city and into the United States.

Deanna, 23, became the first Chinese to reach New York under the administration's emergency program to admit several thousand emigrants from Hong Kong. She was in the first group leaving Hong Kong. Deanna's older sister is a writer on NBC's "Today Show."

ON "TODAY SHOW"

Doreen, the older sister, and the rest of the Chu family emigrated to the United States eight years ago. Deanna was forced to remain behind because of a trace of tuberculosis, now cured.

Then, a couple of weeks ago, reporter Doreen was assigned to interview William Vanden Heuvel, president of the International Refugee Committee, before he took off for the Orient to arrange to bring in the first of the emigres.

AP Managing Editors Set Newspaper Standards

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The test of a good newspaper is how well it meets the standards of integrity, accuracy, responsibility and leadership, says a committee of veteran editors.

The committee, made up of members of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, spent 18 months of study in drawing up a proposed code to help the public and press evaluate newspapers.

Called a "Criteria of a Good Newspaper," the code represents the first broad-scale effort ever made to establish such guidelines.

MANY INVOLVED
John H. Colburn, managing editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch and committee chairman, said it now embodies the suggestions of nearly 50 editors and publishers and heads of 15 journalism schools.

J. Edward Murray, managing editor of The Arizona Republic, of Phoenix, conceived the idea for the code two years ago when he was president of the managing editors association.

In addition to Colburn and Murray, other members of the committee were Frank Eyerly, managing editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune; Vincent S. Jones, executive editor of the Gannett Newspapers; James S. Pope, former executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times; and J. Montgomery Curtis, director of the American Press Institute.

MAJORITY RESPONSIBLE
Colburn said it is hoped that publication of the code also will demonstrate that the vast majority of the nation's 1,768 daily newspapers are both responsible and informative.

Here are some of the things the code says a good newspaper should do:

INTEGRITY

"Maintain vigorous standards of honesty and fair play in the selection and editing of its contents as well as in all relations with news sources and the public."

ACCURACY

"Exert maximum effort to print the truth in all news situations. Strive for completeness and objectivity."

RESPONSIBILITY

"Use mature and considered judgment in the public interest at all times. Select, edit and display news on the basis of its significance and its genuine usefulness to the public."

LEADERSHIP

"Stimulate and vigorously support public officials, private groups and individuals in crusades to increase the good works and eliminate the bad in the community."

The report gave this guide for a good newspaper:

"A good newspaper should be guided in the publication of all material by a concern for truth, the hallmark of freedom, by a concern for human decency and human betterment, and by a respect for the accepted standards of its own community."

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Veteran Gloria Fecht and tour sophomore Sandra Haynie, a couple of golfers who never have won a tournament, matched strokes with big guns Mickey Wright and Jackie Pung to create a four-way lead in the $7,500 Austin Civitan Open first round.

They led the parade into the second 18 holes today with five-under-par 69's.

Cards Are Up For 1st-Place Giants

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stimulated by a psychological boost that carried them out of a great depression, the St. Louis Cardinals are primed for the first place Giants who open a four game series here tonight.

Manager Johnny Keane said the great lift came Tuesday night when the Cards pulled from behind an 9-1 deficit and went on to beat the Cincinnati Reds 10-9 in 11 innings on Stan Musial's homer.

"They wouldn't have gotten the same boost if they had won the game 5-3 in nine innings," Keane said after the Cards had completed a three game sweep of the series with the Reds, winning 8-2 on 18 hits. The victory string followed eight straight losses."

EAGLES HEAR LAWRENCE ON MEDICAL CARE

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Lawrence declared today that the fight against medical care for the aged under Social Security is "being conducted in an atmosphere of untruth, half-truth and outright deception."

In remarks prepared for the 51st annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Lawrence said:

"When new ideas are conceived — when new programs are offered — when new hope is held out for those who are sick or oppressed, maimed or injured, they must compete with loud and alarming chorus of disbelievers."

ECHOES KENNEDY

In reiterating a favorite theme of President Kennedy, Lawrence said much of the opposition to the medical care proposal is the same criticism that was voiced against the Social Security system.

"Those who were against any form of retirement security financed through government cooperation in 1936 are equally against hospital care under Social Security," he said.

"Yet we do not hear their voices raised against the Social Security system itself — because it has proved sound, humanitarian and perfectly workable."

CITES "PARADOX"

Lawrence noted that those opposing the plan argue that "it would not cover everyone since everyone is not under social security." He said:

"Those using this argument know — or should know — that no one in the Kennedy administration or in the Congress has ever said that placing care for the elderly under Social Security would take care of the entire problem."

"President Kennedy has said, repeatedly, that some form of care for indigents under the welfare program must be retained."

"It is a curious paradox of the current debate on hospital care for the aging that those who pro-

SOVIET JAZZ NOT UNLIKELY EXPERT SAYS

EDITOR'S NOTE — American jazz expert Leonard Feather, who accompanied Benny Goodman's band to Moscow and met most of the leading Soviet sidemen and composers, examines the future of Soviet jazz in an article written exclusively for The Associated Press.

By LEONARD FEATHER
Written For The Associated Press

MOSCOW (AP)—After hot jazz, New Orleans jazz and cool jazz, West Coast jazz and East Coast jazz, will the next step be Soviet jazz?

The possibility is not as remote as it might seem.

Already there are jazz clubs in Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev. Their main objectives are no longer merely to listen to American music or try to imitate it, but rather to evolve a new style of music along similar lines.

SOME NEW WORKS

At jazz festivals held annually since 1957 in Tartu, Estonia, and recently at Leningrad University, new works by some of these composers have been introduced. Unlike the stiff, heavy over-orchestrated music of the older Soviet composers who have tried to grapple with jazz, these works are authentic and leave considerable freedom for improvisation.

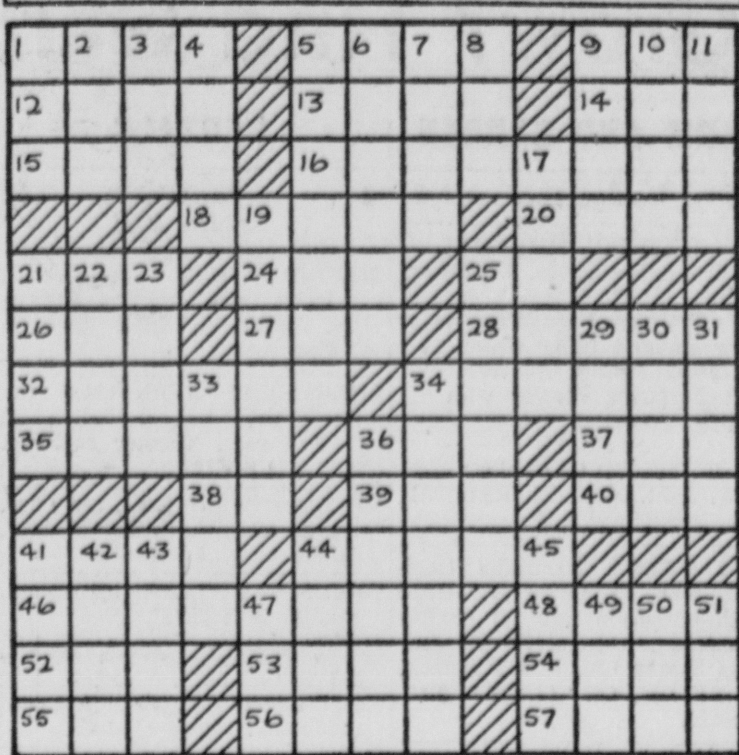

Typical of these young writers is Vadim Sakn, a hard swinging pianist who has written one work, "With Inspiration" that would provide a thoroughly suitable vehicle for Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis or almost any other top American combo.

As Benny Goodman observed during his meeting at the Composers Union in Moscow, jazz is no longer merely an American music. It is a music of the world. One of the factors that held it back for many years outside America was the inability of musicians in other countries to develop the right rhythmic feeling. CAN LEARN SWING

Today, because of the vastly accelerated communications, a Soviet musician who tries hard enough can gain access to the new developments in jazz and can learn, from assiduous listening, how to swing.
But it is not enough for them merely to sound like their American counterparts.
Says Leonid Pereversev, a young electronic technician who doubles as ethno-musicologist:
"For many years in the thirties, our cultural traditions were confused. Third-rate popular restaurant music and operettas, fourth-hand carbon copies of American jazz, all were thriving — complete with loud drums and comedy effects.
OUT IN OPEN
"This kind of thing was criticized and wrongly equated with true jazz. As a result, all jazz was condemned. Only in recent years has there been a realization that jazz is not mere entertainment or music for dancing."
Pereversev says that, now jazz is out in the open again, dozens of musicians in the 18-25 age bracket are working on the evolution of a style that may ultimately earn international acceptance, not as an imitation of the American original but as music with an identity of its own.

When you coat veal shops or veal cutlet before cooking, you can use bread crumbs (fine dry or fresh) or coarse cracker crumbs. The procedure for "breading" is to dip the meat in seasoned flour, then in lightly beaten egg diluted with a little water, and finally into the crumbs.

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORTANNA — The monthly meeting of the WSW study class of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church was held Tuesday evening in the church hall with six members and one guest present. The chapter, "The Good Shepherd," was studied. Mrs. Dale Wetzel, president, opened the meeting with prayer and discussed "The Summary of Meaning." Mrs. Robert Shindler spoke on "The Good Shepherd," and Mrs. Alfred Goetz, "Two Roles, Door and Shepherd." Rev. Alfred Goetz spoke on "One Flock — Our Shepherd." Mrs. J. E. Spence discussed "The Raising of Lazarus from Death"; Mrs. Claire Rebert, "The Anointing of Jesus," and Mrs. Paul Wetzel, "Fact and Truth."

The president, Mrs. Dale Wetzel, suggested that the precedent be followed, on recessing for the two summer months ahead. The meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor.

Mrs. Grace Wetzel was hostess to the Margaret Donaldson Bible Class of the local Methodist Sunday School for the June meeting Wednesday evening in the church hall. The president, Mrs. Ruth Donaldson, opened the meeting with a reading entitled, "A Little Place," after which she offered prayer. The scripture reading of the Third Psalm was given by the hostess. The secretary and treasurer's reports followed. The sum of $80.66 was reported as being cleared from the refreshment stand at the sale of Mrs. Laura Cease. Plans were made to make cherry honey for sale in the church hall in July as in previous years.

The devotional readings were as follows: "There Is So Much," Mrs. Ruth Spence; "Don't Give Up," Mrs. Grace Wetzel; "Thank Thee Lord," Mrs. Lovell Cease; "The Risk of Popularity," Mrs. Mary Tressler, and "Pass It On," Mrs. Ruth Donaldson.

The Bible study under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Tressler, was on the 11th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles.
The meeting closed with The Lord's Prayer in unison. The gift box, donated by Mrs. Spence, was won by Mrs. Tressler and netted the class 65 cents. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

Mrs. Ruth Spence will be hostess to the next meeting July 11 at her home here at 7:30 p.m.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. James Donaldson were Mrs. Mattie Eichman and daughter, Jean; Miss Carrie Kittinger and Lester Tshudy, Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Masaner and family of Hershey, and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hollinger, York.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Herring and Mr. and Mrs. William Shriver and son, Billy, have moved from Ortanna R. D. to the property they recently purchased from Mrs. Laura Cease.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peters and family moved from St. Thomas, Franklin County, to the farm on Ortanna R. D. recently purchased from the Harrings.

SAYS SPACE'S USE IS MUST IN PEACETIME

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scientific use of outer space has become a peacetime necessity as well as a national defense measure, Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., said today.

"We need it for our farmers, for our travelers and for our navigation," said Fulton.

He said all these depend on the weather and historic advances in weather prediction will be made as outer space is used by devices now in the making.

Weather satellites, Fulton said, will make it possible to predict the weather 30 days in advance and on a sure footing.

Fulton's remarks were an amplification of a recent trip to Geneva, Switzerland, as congressional advisor to the United States U.N. mission discussing, with a Russian delegation, ways of cooperating in the joint exploitation of space.

Fulton said the opening sessions of the meeting, which he attended last week at the request of the State Department, indicated to him that the Russians will not agree to the United States' reading their signals from outerspace devices.
